Peter King, R-N.Y., head a hearing of the House Judiciary Committee hearing on the U.S. investigation into the Sept. 11, 2001, terrorist attacks on New York and Washington. From the Justice Department's memos, which were released in response to a Freedom of Information Act request, it's clear that even as early as 2002 FBI agents were caught up in an internal debate about how to proceed on high-profile cases, including the hunt for Bin Laden. The memos show that within the FBI, the Justice Department and the White House, there was a disagreement about how to investigate terrorism after the Sept. 11, 2001, attacks. (AP Photo/Mary M.
